My dear Mr Chapman.

Some time ago, you wrote me you had a beautiful William & Mary 8/- I am now writing you to inquire if you would have any objections in sending it to me in exchange of the numbers given below as they appear on your last bill have in your files.

Yours truly

Of course I would like to keep what I have, but as I am anxious for the William & Mary, or any other good coin Preferably English in beautiful Condition I don't feel at this present Moment I could afford it.

The total of the numbers here mentioned $7.4. I would immediately remit to you any difference which you would ask for.

Please Dr Chapman do not hesitate if you see the slightest objection.

As to the sale of my collection I have not come to any decision. as matters look at present I may still remain here. But as point of information as previously stated my collection amount to about cost £1200- dating back 12 years- in your opinion do you think I could realize cost? Without any obligation whatever on your part or responsibility.

Here are the numbers in question.
